New Jersey Civilian Cyber Resilience Corps

The New Jersey Civilian Cyber Resilience Corps is a volunteer force of skilled cybersecurity professionals dedicated to enhancing our state's cyber defense capabilities. Operating under the New Jersey Cybersecurity and Communications Integration Cell (NJCCIC), the Corps provides essential support to public sector entities and critical infrastructure providers, helping them prevent, respond to, and recover from cyber incidents.

By leveraging the expertise of volunteer professionals across the state, we create a powerful resource that strengthens New Jersey's resilience against evolving cyber threats.

Join the Corps: Volunteer Your Expertise

Are you a seasoned cyber professional with 3+ years of experience? Help protect New Jersey's critical services and infrastructure. Your skills in incident response, threat modeling, and defense are invaluable.
